"I would like to share with you that this week I took the children to the Interactive Classroom to do Math and Natural Science. The time passed too quickly; the children were so motivated to continue that they had to throw us out of the classroom so that other grade could use it"

"My students were so motivated to use the interactive classroom, zero fear with the interactive blackboard, one of the students without been asked said that the teacher not only was given them content on the different subjects but also was practicing with them reading out loud and reading comprehension, an objective which was not really contemplated originally"

"Thank you very much, I have faith that the interactive classroom will contribute to significant learning by the students. I have achieved the participation of all my students without having to intervene to call for their participation"

"I would have been good to have the evidence: the students were fascinated, a plan was given to do a design of a machine and were told that the day they go to the interactive classroom they will have the opportunity to draw it and painted and include the name of all the parts of the machine. You should have seen the students that day, even the one that normally is a trouble maker, she was really interested and participating the day that they were taken to the classroom. By the end of the class they were all finished with their drawing, painted and all, including the student which in other instances refuses to participate. It was absolutely spectacular"
